

Curtiss-Wright Reinforces HVAC Teaming Relationships

Curtiss-Wright is pleased to announce that we have strengthened our partnership with Ruskin Company. For over 25 years, Curtiss-Wright has been the premier global supplier of Ruskin's line of air control solutions for the commercial nuclear power and Department of Energy markets, and we are excited to extend this long-standing teaming agreement and partnership between our companies. By combining Curtiss-Wright's capabilities and expertise with the diverse array of products and services from Ruskin, we will continue to deliver innovative and comprehensive HVAC solutions that address the nuclear and DOE industries' challenges and supply chain demands.

Our Curtiss-Wright Nuclear Division, Cincinnati Operations will process RFQ's and Purchase Orders for the Ruskin Company products. Many of you still refer to this business as QualTech NP.

All RFQ's should be sent to: qtquotes@curtisswright.com. All purchase orders should be sent to: qtorders@curtisswright.com.

Our Curtiss-Wright Strategic Account Managers (SAMs) will work closely with your utility procurement and technical personnel to provide the best support possible to your team. They will be your local resource and channel to our HVAC teaming partners and Curtiss-Wright technical experts. Your local SAM will be reaching out to you soon with additional updates and instructions to ensure that we meet your individual site's needs for system and Approved Vendor List updates.
